

Springwater 7th Ward

January 4, 2026

It's January! A new year. A time of new beginnings. Maybe you'll set a goal for this new year. Some people choose a word to represent their intentions for the year ahead. This year, youth all over the world will be focusing on the same verse of scripture: Moses 6:34, "Walk with me." This was an invitation given to the prophet Enoch. As Enoch journeyed through the land, the Spirit of God rested upon him. Then the Lord spoke to him. He taught him about His plan of happiness, which would give purpose and meaning to life. When the Lord finished describing His plan, He gave Enoch an invitation: "Walk with me."

As you journey through this new year, maybe you'll find yourself looking for happiness, purpose, and meaning. You could learn from Enoch's story and invite the Lord to be part of your journey this year. You could choose to walk with Him. As you do, blessings await. It's going to be a good year.

With love, Emily Belle Freeman

(1940-2025)

"I testify that the future is going to be as miracle-filled and bountifully blessed as the past has been. We have every reason to hope for blessings even greater than those we have already received because this is the work of Almighty God, this is the Church of continuing revelation, this is the gospel of Christ's unlimited grace and benevolence. I bear witness to all of these truths and so much more in the name of Jesus Christ, amen". April 2020
